

LEVIATHAN

EVENTS COORDINATOR

Leviathan is the University of Edinburgh's most prestigious student academic publication, focusing on rigorously researched and well-written articles covering contemporary politics across the globe.

We are looking for an organised and hard-working Events Coordinator to organise awesome writers' and social events that Leviathan is renowned for. This period will cover three issues, one in the fall semester and two in the spring semester. Our Events Coordinator will work with our Chief of Marketing, Social Media Director, Executive Committee and Editorial Board to organise the breath-taking social and academic events. Your job as Events Coordinator would be to help us fulfil our shared aim with the Edinburgh Political Union of keeping students at the University informed and engaged with international politics.

No experience is required to apply to be Events Coordinator. As it is a substantial time commitment, we are looking for dedication and willing to learn first and foremost. Our Executive Team will provide all the training you need. Fast-track a lucrative yet flexible career in the world of events management and become a part of Edinburgh's most exciting student publication.

For more information about Leviathan visit www.journals.ed.ac.uk/leviathan